

NEWS OF THE DAY.

"To show the very age and body of the times."

James Clay Potts, a messenger of the Southern Express Company, charged with robbing the company of about $20,000 at West Point, Mississippi, on the 16th March, was arrested on Saturday morning by Mr. Charles H. Erhman, route agent of the Harnden Express on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, and some $15,000 in gold and United States currency found upon his person.

The colored people celebrated, at Richmond, Virginia, yesterday, the anniversary of the evacuation of that city. The procession was quite large. They were addressed by Hunnicutt, who advised them to beware of Southern whites and ally to the Republicans. Senator Wilson was in the city, but did not address them.

It is understood that Mr. Sumner, chairman of the Senate committee on foreign affairs, opposes a ratification of the Russo-American treaty, and will move its postponement until next session. If the matter is pressed now by his friends, not only will it not get a two-thirds vote, but hardly a majority for its ratification.

Benjamin S. Ewell, president of William and Mary College, in Virginia, is now seeking aid in New York to rebuild the institution. It is the oldest, or next to the oldest, seat of learning in America, and was destroyed by U. S. soldiers during the war.

The anniversary celebration of the Jefferson Society of the University of Virginia will take place on Friday evening, April 12th inst. The reader on the occasion will be John Y. Bassel, of West Virginia, and the orator, Frank D. Moore, of Virginia.

Gen. Sickles, commanding in South Carolina, has issued an order prohibiting elections for the present, announcing that he will appoint Sheriffs and other civil officers, upon the expiration of the terms of the present incumbents.

The actual gross receipts from the working of the Atlantic cable from the opening of the communication with America from the 28th of July last to March 12, averaged $813 (about $4,000) per day, including Sundays.

Some Radical members of the Connecticut Legislature attribute their signal defeat in Connecticut to the effort of Congress to force negro suffrage upon the Northern States.

A man named David Horth has been sentenced in New York city to pay a fine of $25 and to ten days imprisonment for beating a cat's brains out with his clenched fist.

The property known as the Gold Ridge farm, in Prince William county, Virginia, was disposed of, the other day, to G. A. Wheelock, for $63,000, or $100 per acre.

The Ohio House has passed the Senate manhood suffrage resolution, with an amendment disfranchising "rebels" and deserters, by a vote of 63 to 29.

Our advices by the cable are to yesterday. The negotiations looking to the acquisition of Luxembourg by the French Government have been stopped.

General Burnside was yesterday re-elected Governor of Rhode Island. All the Republican candidates for Congress and State offices were chosen.

Late news from Montana says the winning operations this season will be extended, and estimates the yield of precious metals at $36,000,000.

The mayor of Memphis offers a reward of $500 for the murderer of Gen. Bankhead, and the same amount for Ferguson's murderer.

The extensive woolen mills of B. Schofield, at Manayunk, Pa., were burned last night. Loss $160,000; insured for $18,000.

Richard C. Parsons, of Ohio, was yesterday appointed marshal of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Gen. Sherman is to make a trip to Europe, this summer. He will sail from New York in June.

Mr. TUCKER'S SPEECH.—The Richmond Examiner gives an account of the recent meeting of the colored people in Richmond, at which Hunnicutt made a speech, and then adds:

"Hunnicutt then introduced Mr. Tucker, of Alexandria, who first proceeded to eulogize the illustrious Hunnicutt, and then launched forth in a Fourth of July oration, of an hour in length, in a similar vein. The only points he made were that the negroes could not fail of success if they continued united; that the taxes would in future have to be paid by the property, and that they must seek to ally themselves with the poor white people of the South, and make common cause with them against their common oppressors—the aristocracy." He cautioned them to beware of rebel influences, and above all, never to take advice from their enemies. They must also be on their guard against the insidious wiles of the rebel papers, and remember who called them baboons, and Abraham Lincoln an ape, and told them the Yankees had horns on their foreheads. "Will you trust such men?" [No! No!] And then Mr. Tucker subsided.

RAILROAD TRAVELLING IN THE EAST INDIES.—The worst of our inconveniences in railroad travel are insignificant compared with what is endured in the East, the following from an India journal is to be relied on:

"Last year no less than seven or eight corpses if we remember rightly, were taken from the carriages of this line (Calcutta and Delhi) alone, victims to a barbarous system of over-packing. Men and women are often so crushed in a third-class carriage as to be compelled to remain standing during the entire length of a journey, sometimes 400 or 500 miles, and at the hottest season of the year. No where are the natives treated otherwise than wild beasts. Tickets for distances under those paid for are constantly issued to the ignorant."

This statement is confirmed by Captain Williams, an under secretary to the Government, who says that the number of persons found dead in trains is very large.

DUTCH GAP CANAL FILLED UP.—This specimen of the engineering skill of Ben Butler is about to become one of the things that were. Mr. Henry Cox, who owns the lands on each side of the "ditch," on yesterday finished filling in a crossing way at its upper end and just where it receives the waters of the James.—This wagon road is twelve feet wide on the top, and is about ten feet above high-water mark. Mr. Cox was desirous of cultivating this "island," which is one of the most fertile fields on the lower James, and had to fill in to it. The city authorities at one time spoke of deepening this channel so that it could be used for vessels, and there has been some talk of a joint stock company to improve it; but while they have both been delaying action, Mr. Cox has become tired of waiting, and filled it in.—Richmond Dispatch.

LETTER FROM PRINCE WILLIAM CO.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)
BRENTSVILLE, April 2.—The April monthly term of our County Court adjourned yesterday, having dispatched the business before it in one day. Nothing was done worthy of special notice. The attendance was large; and farmers report the wheat crop in the county generally as promising. The severity of the past winter is unparalleled within the memory of the oldest inhabitant. On account of weather and high waters we had no courts in February and March. The destruction of the bridge over Cedar Run, near this place, causes serious inconvenience to the people of the lower end of the county, and is detrimental to all, in retarding the public business. It is to be hoped that the county authorities will take measures, at the next levy term, to provide for the construction of substantial bridges over Broad and Cedar runs, so as to render the county seat at all seasons accessible. In these trying times, the "ways and means" are the only difficulty, and although your informant, a white back, stretched the blanket when he told you that spirits here were "good for drinks," it is not the less true that money don't grow on our trees, just at this time? Our criminal docket for the Spring term of Judge Thomas's Court will be small. Mr. Chas. Wright, our efficient jailor, has only two prisoners at present—Davis, charged with assault with intent to kill, and McCall, sent on for horse stealing. By the way, Mr. Wright is the only public officer in the county who "held on" during the war, barring a few alternations between the outside and inside, as the fortunes of war changed.—Good order prevails among us, which is the desideratum under a military regime. We have few open political agitators. Intimations are whispered of a petition to General Schofield, in circulation among some malcontents, requesting him to supersede the county authorities. Such a proceeding has no justification in anything which has occurred, or is likely to occur, and can only emanate from those who suppose that General Schofield's present office is that of an exterminator, and that they are the beneficiaries under the trust which he holds. From all we can learn, the General does not so understand it, but regards the existing Provisional Government as "of the people, and by the people, for the people"—to be abolished only in case of a gross and general failure of the ends of justice under it, and only to be controlled in individual cases of patent outrage and wrong. In other words that he desires to see, not an enemy, and military propagandist of political opinion. If so, we have reason to congratulate ourselves upon the lucky hit which gave the General to District No. 1.

In politics non est. I heard more political talk at parties en route, the other day, than I have heard for a long time. There they have a colored candidate for the Legislature, (whenever the election occurs,) in the person of Mr. Thos. Sinkfield, who has warm supporters. Mr. Sinkfield is said to be conservative, and rejects with scorn the pretensions of the radicals as false negrophilists. He denounces the radical appeal for the suffrage of his race, and the pretence that the conquering Federal army was an army of liberators. In his poor child's case, (which case was reported to me,) he mournfully urges that they sought to bind even the spirit of the dead.

So it goes "from grave to grave, from lively to severe." Great days are the days we live in!

L'INCONSCIENCE.

LETTER FROM LOUDOUN COUNTY.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)
LEESBURG, Va., April 2, 1867.—I have not had the heart to write, for a long time, and as there has been no county news, your readers have not missed any thing. The news of the Connecticut election reached us to-day, and brightened many a countenance. I was disposed to repeat the words of the poet, and in a different connection:

"Break from thy Winter, sad heart, and sing." It is truly refreshing to see this break in the clouds. May we not hope it is the clearing away of the storm, which has so long been bursting upon us?

The action of the State of Mississippi, in endeavoring to test the authority of Congress to pass the "Military bill," and to invoke the aid of the Supreme Court in defence of the few remaining rights of the States, has raised my hopes again.

If the radicals are determined to thrust aside the Constitution, and rule by the weight of numbers, I am for giving them a chance so to do. Of course, while the law is on the Statute book, we must obey it, and choose, from the material left us, the best men to frame the Constitutions required. And while I say this I am, and ever since the 9th of April 1865, have been, in favor of a liberal extension of suffrage to the colored race. I think it is good policy and justice, but I quarrel with no man, who does not agree with me. You will perceive by the Mirror that some sort of a caucus was held here on Saturday night, in which Captain J. B. Smith, of the Freedmen's Bureau, a Northern man, and Mr. William B. Downey, Commonwealth's Attorney for this county, and a Pennsylvanian, two white men, took part. I suppose it is Capt. Smith's duty to promote the welfare of the people committed to his care in every way that he thinks advisable, but what has brought Mr. Downey into that company, I cannot imagine.

Many persons here remember the speech he made at a flag raising in 1865, and cannot well forget the polite and elegant manner in which he spoke of the negroes! If I mistake not they themselves have not forgotten it.

"Misery (is it?) makes us acquainted with strange bed-fellows." Our License Court will meet next Monday, and we expect a crowd then. The roads have improved wonderfully, and a good many people have been in town.

The wheat looks well; some farmers ploughed a good deal for corn last fall, but generally Spring wheat is very backward.

To give you some idea of the badness of the road from Leesburg to the Point of Rocks, I will say that clover seed, which was ordered five weeks ago, was received to-day from Baltimore, having been lying at the Point for a month or more. It was brought down the Canal to White's Ferry, (4 miles from town) and hauled thence in wagons.

The only other item I can mention indicating life, or progress is that 13 marriage licenses (one for colored people) were issued from our Clerk's Office during March. None of the parties had exceeded 40 years of age. Last March there were 15 licenses issued.

Land sales are not attended now; but private sales are sometimes negotiated. The Railroad completed to Leesburg, (as it will be in 30 days probably) may bring strangers here, and I hope it will.

HEADQUARTERS FIRST DISTRICT,

STATE OF VIRGINIA,

Richmond, Va., April 2, 1867.

General Orders No. 8.

All elections, whether State, county, or municipal, under the Provisional Government of Virginia, are hereby ordered to be suspended until the registration provided for by the act of Congress of March 23d, 1867, shall be completed.

Vacancies which may occur in the meantime, will be filled by temporary appointments, to be made by the Commanding General.

By command of Brig. and Bvt. Maj. Gen. J. M. SCHOFIELD, U. S. A.

S. F. CHALFIN,

Assistant Adjutant General.

Capture of Dealers in Counterfeits.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 3.—The detectives made a grand raid yesterday, on buyers and sellers of counterfeit government treasury notes, fractional currency, &c. Up to noon to-day they had arrested twenty persons, living in Western New York, and lodged them in jail. The warrants were issued by United States Commissioner Clark, and the examination of the arrested parties will be before him. This raid is the most extensive ever made in the United States, and causes the greatest excitement.

P. S.—18 more prisoners were brought in this morning, and lodged in jail. The last lot resided mostly in the southern counties. It is a gigantic affair, and creates great excitement in counterfeit money-shaving circles.

THE COLORED PEOPLE AND THEIR FRIENDS.

—The colored people of this State will not be allowed to vote for delegates to the proposed Constitutional Convention. The radicals in the Legislature are unanimous in favor of enforcing colored suffrage in the South, but like their brethren elsewhere, they are not willing to make a home application of their principles. There is no consistency between their precepts and their practices. It is one of the singularities of our present politics, that while all of the late State are preparing to give the ballot to their colored population, the leading States of the North persist in refusing to make such concessions. No wonder that the colored people are beginning to see the hypocrisy of the Radical politicians.—N. Y. Sun.

The existence of an Association in Canada—called the "Mutual Refreshment Club," was brought to public notice in a late trial at court, its principal objects being to facilitate the consumption of lager beer. It has a regular organization, with by-laws and about five hundred members. It appeared in evidence that in the course of fifteen months the members had drunk 832 casks of lager, and worn out sixty packs of playing cards.

At the instance of a number of our citizens, I am induced to appeal to the entire people of our city for contributions in behalf of the suffering thousands throughout the Southern States. This is a subject that should command the active sympathy of every generous heart, and I sincerely hope that citizens, generally, will respond cheerfully to the call about to be made on them at this time. In order that every person may have an opportunity to contribute to this noble charity, committees of gentlemen will call at every dwelling and store of the Wards in this city.

The following gentlemen are requested to canvass their respective Wards—making King and Pitt streets, the boundaries.

1st. WARD—Benoni Wheat, G. C. Wedderburn, John W. Green, Isaac N. Carter.

2d. WARD—T. A. Brewis, W. W. Danen, Geo. E. Vintner, Geo. Simpson.

3d. WARD—Col. Arthur Herbert, Robert Prettyman, George Wise, Joseph Paul.
